Globally recognised health, safety and environmental qualifications

Reduce accidents, control costs, protect your reputation and avoid legal action with our introductory NEBOSH Health and Safety at Work qualification.

“The Ministry of Labour in the Kingdom of Bahrain have for many years recognised NEBOSH qualifications as the standard required for any HSE professional working in Bahrain in the private sector. The NEBOSH Health and Safety at Work award is an excellent introductory qualification. This will help organisations to implement an effective health and safety management system and help to improve the safety culture.”

Mr. Hussain Al Shami
Chief of Occupational Safety Section
Ministry of Labour – Kingdom of Bahrain

What can the NEBOSH Health and Safety at Work qualification do for my organisation?

A safer workplace – Health and safety is important. It protects people from injury and loss of life.

The NEBOSH Health and Safety at Work qualification gives your workforce vital health and safety know-how so they can make a difference and help reduce accidents, control costs, protect your reputation and avoid legal action.
